A guide to help you settle in Cambridge. Welcome events on the back.

Organised by the Cambridge University Christian Graduate Society (CGS) for all international students

01

Cambridge University

With 31 colleges and many departments, Cambridge University is spread all around the city. You can find out more about the university via their website (www.cam.ac.uk) or by asking the porters at your college. There are also a number of other bodies of which you should be aware:

Cambridge University Students Union (CUSU)

CUSU represents the interests of the student body to the university authorities. All undergraduate and postgraduate students are automatically members. A list of the services that they provide can be found on their website: www.cusu.cam.ac.uk.

Graduate Union (GU)

The GU represents the interests of postgraduate students, who are automatically members of it as well as of CUSU. For more information, visit their website: www.gradunion.cam.ac.uk. You can also view their handbook at www.gradunion.cam.ac.uk/files/handbooks.

Clubs and Societies

There are hundreds of clubs and societies catering to a wide range of interests including sport, music, theatre, religion, politics and charity. Many of them can be found at www.societies.cam.ac.uk and www.cusu.co.uk/groups. These societies are a great way to meet new people and develop new interests.

Cambridge Slang

(Typical Cambridge expressions)

Fresher: a new graduate or undergraduate student

P'lodge: Porters' Lodge. This is the main reception area of a college where you can get help.

Squash: Recruitment event for student societies

The Other Place: Nickname for Oxford University

Finding Food

Market

- Sainsbury's, located on Sidney Street, is the main supermarket in the centre of town.
- Supermarkets further from the city centre include Tesco (Newmarket Road and Cherry Hinton), Asda and Sainsbury's (Coldham's Lane), Waitrose (Trumpington), and Aldi, which is often cheapest (Histon Road).
- There are also smaller supermarket branches such as Tesco Express (Hills Road), Sainsbury's Local (Regent Street), Cooperative Food (Hills Road) and Waitrose (Fitzroy Street).
- You can also find fresh produce and a variety of interesting foodstuffs at the Market Square.

Eating Out

- Cafés: you will find coffee shops everywhere in the city centre, including Starbucks, Costa, Caffè Nero and a few independent shops like the Indigo Café.
- Restaurants: there are restaurants of every variety all around the city, but if you are looking for somewhere to start, try along Regent Street, Bridge Street or, for more international cuisine, Mill Road.
- Fast food and take-away: there are many places that offer quick food to take away, including fish & chips, burgers, pizzas, kebabs, Chinese food and Indian food.

Food at the university

The college dining hall, or buttery, is usually the cheapest place to eat if you don't want to cook for yourself. Your college will also offer formal hall on certain nights of the week. This is where formal dinners are served for less than you would pay at a restaurant and in the beautiful setting of your college dining hall. A number of University buildings also contain their own cafeteria.

03

Accommodation

University Housing

Your college may provide you with accommodation for your first year and possibly for the whole of your course, either in college or in college-owned housing. If you have to find your own accommodation, you can try one of the following websites: Easy-Roommates, Rightmove, ChristianFlatshare, Roombuddies and SpareRooms. As a student, you won't be personally liable for Council Tax, but you should confirm this with your landlord. In addition, be sure to find out whether gas, water and electricity bills are included in the price. The university is also in contact with a number of landlords around the city offering rooms to rent to students, and you can find them through the Accommodation Service at www.accommodation.cam.ac.uk.

Hotels / Hostels

If, at first, you can't find long-term accommodation, Cambridge has a large range of hotels, bed-and-breakfasts and guest houses that you can find through websites such as Hotels.co.uk or Booking.com. You can also try AirBnB, Couchsurfing or the Youth Hostel on Tenison Road.

04

Shopping

Shopping Centres

- Grand Arcade/Lion Yard: The main shopping centre in the city centre (St Andrew's Street/Petty Cury) with many clothes shops and the department store John Lewis.
- Grafton Centre: Between Burleigh Street and Fitzroy Street, it is a little further from the city centre and next to a range of other cheaper shops such as Argos and Primark.
- Beehive Centre/Cambridge Retail Park: Just outside of the city centre and containing numerous large chain stores including furniture, electronics, hardware and gardening stores, along with a few restaurants and a large Tesco branch nearby.

What's the Best Deal?

(All about Cambridge's cheapest places)

Poundland: On Fitzroy Lane.

Everything there is £1!

Primark: The number one option for cheap new clothes, on Burleigh Street.

Charity shops: These sell second-hand clothes and household items. There are many around the city, particularly along Burleigh Street, and Mill Road.

For Studying Supplies

- Books: Waterstones (Sidney Street), Heffers (Trinity Street) and the Cambridge University Press (Trinity Street). At CUP, students get a 20% discount.
- Stationery: WHSmith (Market Street) and Ryman's (Sidney Street). A little further out of the city centre is Office Outlet (Chesterton Road).

Important Information

Banking

You should be able to withdraw money from any bank ATM in the city centre, but be aware of fees if you're using an overseas bank account. You should get a UK bank account as soon as possible. Be aware that this can take a few days. Before going to the bank, check online to see what personal information or ID you need to take with you in order to open an account.

Most banks, including Barclays, HSBC, Lloyds, Santander and NatWest, offer student accounts. You can find main branches of these banks on or near St Andrew's Street.

Immigration

- For nationalities that need to register with the police (this is only if your passport says you need to – most do not), the University Centre is open for registration on certain dates, or you can go to Parkside Police Station. For details, check with Cambridge University International Student Team (www.internationalstudents.cam.ac.uk/arriving/police-registration).
- If your details change, you will need to notify the police at Parkside Police Station to update your Police Registration Certificate.

Mobile phones / Internet

- You can find branches of most phone operators, such as Vodafone, EE, O2 or Three, in the city centre. UK mobile phone numbers begin with 07 and contain 11 digits.
- Many places in the city centre offer free Wifi, including libraries and cafés. If you are living in rented accommodation, then your landlord will usually provide you with internet access.

Health Care

The NHS (National Health Service) is the UK public health system which, as a student, you are automatically covered by. Check their website (www.nhs.uk) for more information. Most colleges have nurses for quick help and advice.

- Doctor: Register with a GP (General Practitioner) as soon as possible: they are your first contact for almost any health problem. If you need to see a specialist, your GP will refer you. Check online or ask your college to find the nearest surgery/clinic to you.
- Dentist: There is the University Dental Service (Trumpington Street) or you can register with one closer to you. Unlike the doctor, you will have to pay for the dentist.
- Pharmacies: The main shops are Boots and Superdrug, located on Sidney Street.

Well-being

- Linkline: A student-run listening and support service (01223 744444)
- University Counselling Service: Free professional counselling for students and staff (01223 332865)

Important Numbers

- 999: Emergency number that will redirect you to the police, ambulance or fire brigade.
- 101: Police number to report less urgent crime or disorder (non-emergency)
- 111: NHS number for quick medical help (non-emergency)

Transport

Cycling

Cambridge is the cycling capital of the UK. Lights are a legal requirement and a cycling helmet and a good bike lock are highly recommended, as bike theft is common. The rules for cycling on the road can be found on the Highway Code website (www.gov.uk/guidance/the-highway-code). There are many bike shops in Cambridge: King Street Cycles (King Street), Rutland Cycling (Grand Arcade) The Bikeman (Market Square), Lensfield Road Cycles (Lensfield Road), Townsends Light Blue Cycle Centre (Chesterton Road), University Cycles (Victoria Avenue), Halfords (Cambridge Retail Park); and City Cycle Hire (Newnham Road).

Get the App

(For people with smart phones)

MyBusTrip: Bus routes, stops and timetables in Cambridge.

Taxis: Most taxi companies have Apps.

NationalRail: View timetables and book train tickets.

Cambridge: Check the App of Cambridge University for offline maps, events, news, etc.

Bus

Bus routes cover most of the city. Timetables and routes can be found at www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/info/20017/buses. Most services run until the late evening. Buy a ticket from the driver when you get on the bus. You can get an individual journey (single/return) ticket or daily/weekly ones, or you can order monthly tickets online.

Taxi Companies

Taxis are useful for a quick trip or a very early or late journey. Panther (01223 715715), A1 CabCo (01223 525555) and CamCab (01223 704704) are popular companies and most journeys cost under £10 within the city.

Train

You can buy tickets at the train station or online via the National Rail website. Advance purchase tickets can be posted to you or collected at the station from the ticket machines. Tickets can be cheaper if you book them well in advance. As a student, you can also buy a railcard that gets you 33% off most rail fares.

Coach

The coach is a cheaper but slower alternative to the train. For more details, check the National Express or Megabus websites.

Life in Cambridge

The Cambridge "Bucket List" Top 5

Of all the things to do in Cambridge, here is a list of activities you ought to do during your stay.

- Punting: Go to the river to see what this is. You can either book a guide, hire your own punt from Scudamore's, or, if your college has its own punts, hire one of these. On a nice day, you can punt all the way to the village of Grantchester.

- Tour of the main colleges: You should visit as many colleges as possible. The oldest colleges and the ones along the River Cam are particularly worth a visit.
- Fitzwilliam Museum: A free museum of art and antiquities on Trumpington Street.
- Photo with the Cambridge cows: You can find cows in various parks in Cambridge, and even in King's College!
- Evensong: Many of the colleges have world-famous choirs. Go to a chapel service to hear them, particularly at St John's, King's, Clare, or Trinity.

Did you know?

(Little facts about Cambridge)

Cambridgeshire is said to be the driest county in the UK
Prince William & Kate Middleton are Duke and Duchess of Cambridge
Tennis originated here and you can still try it: it's called "real tennis" or "tennis of the kings"
Charles Darwin, Isaac Newton and Stephen Hawking are some of the famous Cambridge alumni.

Main Dates and Events in Cambridge

- Fresher's Fair: Discover all the Cambridge clubs and societies on October 3rd and 4th at Parker's Piece and Kelsey Kerridge Sports Centre.
- Bonfire Night: Every year on the 5th of November, the British celebrate a failed attempt to blow up the government in 1605 by a group of rebels with a night of bonfires and fireworks.
- Christmas Choirs: In the period before Christmas, many churches and colleges hold carol services to celebrate Advent and Christmas itself.
- Mill Road Winter Fair: On the 2nd of December, 10:30 – 4:30, come to Mill Road for a day of street performers, marching bands, food stalls and other activities.
